

The Federation of Behavioral, Psychological, and Cognitive Sciences and
the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society invite you to attend a Science Forum on

Human Factors and Patient Safety Research

Friday, October 15th 9:00am – 5:00pm
The National Academies of Science, 500 5th Street, NW, First Floor Lecture Hall
Judiciary Square and Gallery Place/Chinatown Metro stations

This Science Forum addresses the current status and future progress of human factors and ergonomics research in the patient safety arena. The day is divided into two segments: The morning session is dedicated to research on patient care, and the afternoon session focuses on agencies and groups that either issue patient safety guidance or fund patient safety research. The day concludes with a discussion of where human factors and ergonomics researchers need to concentrate their future efforts in order to achieve far-reaching goals.

Morning

- 9:00 – 9:15 Introductions
Jill Egeth (Federation of Behavioral, Psychological, and Cognitive Sciences)
Wendy Rogers (President, Human Factors and Ergonomics Society)
- 9:15 – 9:35 Overview of Patient Safety Human Factors Issues
Daryle Gardner-Bonneau (Bonneau and Associates; Western Michigan University)
- 9:35 – 12:30 Session One: Context of Care
- Home Care
Helen Altman Klein (Wright State University)
Holly B. Jimison (Oregon Health & Science University)
- Transportation Issues/Emergency Care
Rollin J. (Terry) Fairbanks (University of Rochester School of Medicine)
Robert L. Wears (University of Florida)
- Clinical Environments
Caroline G. L. Cao (Tufts University)
Pascale Carayon (University of Wisconsin-Madison)
- 12:30 – 1:15 Break for lunch

Afternoon

- 1:15 – 3:30 Session Two: Human Factors/Patient Safety Research Needs and Funding Opportunities
- Agencies and Organizations that Issue Guidance
Philip Aspden (National Academies, Institute of Medicine)
Nancy M. Ostrove (Food and Drug Administration)
- Funding Agencies and Organizations
James B. Battles/Kerm Henriksen (Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality)
Noel E. Eldridge (National Center for Patient Safety, Veterans Health Administration)
Heidi King (Department of Defense)
- 3:30 – 5:00 Session Three: Future of the Field
Discussion: What are the burgeoning areas of research that need to be supported? In what direction should patient safety research be heading?

Send RSVPs to federation@fbpcs.org or call 202.336.5920