

Agenda: Social Psychology Roundtable
Department of Homeland Security
June 9, 2006

The Social Psychology Roundtable is the result of collaboration among the Federation of Behavioral, Psychological, and Cognitive Science, the Society for Personality and Social Psychology, and the Department of Homeland Security's Threat and Vulnerability Portfolio.

Each of the topical areas in bold has a 30 minute time allotment. There will be a 10-minute PowerPoint presentation for each topic, followed by approximately 20 minutes for questions and discussion.

- 9:00 Introduction to the event by Barbara Wanchisen, PhD (Federation) and Laurie Rudman, PhD (Rutgers University)
- 9:10 Introduction to DHS by Joseph Kielman, PhD
- 9:30 Group Networks, Socialization, Identification & Social Structure
Richard Moreland, PhD (University of Pittsburgh)
Robin Vallacher, PhD (Florida Atlantic University)
- 10:00 “Hot” Emotions & Group-Based Emotions
Kipling Williams, PhD (Purdue University)
Jonathan Haidt, PhD (University of Virginia)
- 10:30 Political and Religious Ideologies
Jonathan Haidt, PhD (University of Virginia)
- 11:00 Cross-Cultural Intergroup Conflict
Michele Gelfand, PhD (University of Maryland)
- 11:30 Persuasion, Social Influence, Minority Influence
Kipling Williams, PhD (Purdue University)
Robin Vallacher, PhD (Florida Atlantic University)
- 12:00 Meeting adjourns